Carol Smithley

Carol Smithley is involved in many aspects of Stand Up Cass County. Carol is a LPN who is passionate about recovery work for those in active addiction. She founded a sober living home and led a Celebrate Recovery group while living in California and moved to Logansport approx. 10 years ago. She is heavily involved with Celebrate Recovery and has founded Women at the Well Recovery Home that is planning to open soon.

Carol is a Pastor and uses her wisdom for guiding others with hope and love. She gives her time faithfully to jail ministry and is a Peer Navigator with Youth Services Alliance. Her passion is loving people and guiding them to freedom from their bondage.

She feels blessed to be a part of Stand Up Cass County because she loves being with like-minded people that are making a difference in our community.

Together, we can have a bigger impact on changing for the better!
